The time has come
You're free at last
You mustn't worry
About the past
There will be times
When we must face,
All the changes that Take place.
The future is only
Yours to see
Whatever will be,
Will be,
May the very best
Pass your way,
But there's one last Thing that I must say,
Look only straight forward
And hold your heads high,
For you will find
Where the future lies.
Good luck and good bye.

SPORTS

Although the team was only able to put together one win, Coach John Ryski said that the members of his team played hard and with a great deal of enthusiasm. Inconsistent offense seemed to be the team's greatest problem, but two highlights of the season were the team's final win against Waconia and the quality of play during the second half of the Chaska game. Tom Henderson and Scott Mikkelsen captained the team this season, while MVP honors went to Kelly Davis. Steve Spartz was rated Most Improved, while Shawn Horan qualified as All-Conference for the season.

Varsity Football

Winning the Homecoming game against Orono rated as the highlight of the season this year, although the win against Hutchinson was also memorable for the boys. Andy Bren earned the nickname "Dr. X" for his hard-hitting play, while Dan O'Brien's interception in the game against Orono rated as an outstanding play.

First the Eagles line up for the snap (above), then struggle to gain yardage against Waconia (below).

Undefeated for the whole season, the team showed particularly strong defense. Dan Mesebrink and Eric Solie captained the team, while MVP honors went to Scott Fisher. Kevin Roles was Best Running Back, Best Tackler was Dean Simons, Best Pass Catcher was Dave Nelson, Hardest Hitter was Dan Haffner, Best Passer was Dan Mesebrink, and Most Improved was Eric Solie.

Ninth Grade Football

With a new advisor, Nancy Pudas, and captains Ann Rogers and Connie Sackett, the began their first year without a "B" squad. The cheerleaders were particularly busy during Homecoming and sold links in a spirit chain to raise money and to get class spirit going. The girls also particularly remember painting the bridge and "the line" at the banquet. They cheered the team throughout the season and at pepfests, as well as posting spirit signs on team member's lockers.

Although suffering from some inconsistencies, the team, led by Captain Debbie Johnson, maintained a respectable 5-3 conference record. Besides placing third in the Minneapolis West Invitational, Eden Prairie hosted its first invitational where they became the first team taking number one-ranked Columbia Heights to three games.

This year's team turned in a record of 10 wins with only one loss for the team. Coach Emahiser cited the team for its hard work and confidence in themselves and in the team. The only problem was keeping the pressure on opponents to the end of each game, but their talent should give EP a strong varsity next year.

With players who improve 100% from the beginning to the end of the season, according to Coach Emahiser the team turned in a six wins, three losses record. He also said every player worked hard to gain that improvement. The girls considered the highlight of the season to be the game against Orono. After being down 11-1 in the second game, the team came from behind and won both the second and third games.

Giving up only one loss in conference play, the team did well from the start. Coach Hochhalter said the girls came in with better skills than ever before and learned more quickly, with teamwork, serving and bumping being their main strengths. The team also did well in tournament play at Rosemount. The A division team brought home first place trophy while B division team was runnerup. Getting into the finals of both divisions was considered quite an accomplishment.

Ninth Grade Volleyball

This is the first year that a squad of existed as the fall sports cheerleaders were regrouped from only doing football. The girls were very active in all the Homecoming festivities as well as cheering on the volleyball team. Locker decorations, posters, and other morale boosters were created by the cheerleaders to let their teams know they were behind them. Although there were four volleyball teams they helped, most of the cheerleaders' time went to the varsity squad.

Julie Olson did a lot of the work on designing the new head and cape that the mascot wears. Mascots under the costume trade off at home events, helping the crowds and cheerleaders support the teams with spirit.

Eden Prairie had a soccer team for the first time this year, and the nine wins, five losses, and one tie record set a good mark for future teams to match. Since not all conference schools have soccer teams, this year's EP players went into a schedule with many non-conference matches and gained experience against different types of play. Captains were Dan Verkuilen, Bob Cox, and Mark Burke. The team went to the regional playoffs, an accomplishment for a first year team. Helping get the team started was Mark Moran of the Minnesota Kicks.

In its first year of existence, the members of the team played against both regular conference teams and non-conference ones since many schools do not yet have soccer teams. The team rotated captains every other week to give a number of players that responsibility. The team's overall record was four wins, seven losses, and two ties, with two games going into overtime before being decided. High scoring honors for the season went to Gino Gori with 21 points earned with 9 goals and 3 assists. J-V soccer Soccer was also one of the few sports where girls competed on the same team as boys.

Not only did they take the conference crown for the third straight year, but the team placed first in the region as well. The team was ranked tenth in the state at the end of the season and will consider running as a team in the state meet as one of the highlights of the season. Coach Larry Anderson was honored himself as coach of the year by the state coaches' association.

Coach Anderson cited the strength of the team as remarkable when any of the top seven runners could move up to top places easily.

Joel Riggs and Joe Wannebo captained the team this year. Dave Du-vick was Most Valuable Runner and placed first in the conference meet. Doug Schneider came in behind him in second place, Bill Peper in fourth. Joel Riggs and Chris Miller also placed in the top ten, while Chris Miller took Most Improved honors.

Team members will also remember winning both the Delano and Buffalo Invationals and running well at the huge Princeton Invitational.

Only two of the team were seniors, so strength for the future remains, according to Coach Larry Anderson.

team will never forget going almost the entire season without snow. Even with running on dry land more than on snow, the girls were able to place in 16th and 18th places in the Hopkins Relays and in 14th at the sectionals. Coach Rick Hagen commented that this is probably the most competitive sectional in the state.

Karen Lyngdal and Donna Tabar captained the team this year. They led the girls on courses with almost no snow throughout the season, and with Coach Hagen's ideas for llama Olympics and other diversions during practice, were able to keep going until February.

They also had to invent such "drills" as three-legged races, soccer games, running backwards for a mile, and other "llama olympics" events under the guidance of Coach Rick Hagen to keep their practices from being too depressing without snow. Captains were Joel Riggs and Roland Schulze. Coach Hagen said that the team was remarkable for the number of strong skiers. The season for this year's Boys' Downhill Ski Team proved to be a fine one. Their dual meet record was 7-2. The Grand Rapids Invitational was one of the highlights of the season with the team placing second overall. Two other highlights were the Welch Invitational where they placed 12th and the Sectional Meet where they captured third place.

One of the team's main strengths, according to Coach Terriquez, was the good balance through the line up. Russ Lewis and Tom Henderson captained the team this year. Receiving MVP honors was Russ Lewis, while Dave Bakken was voted MIP.

EP barely missed qualifying for the State Meet in team competition with just one point behind defending state champs Edina West. However, Russ Lewis qualified for the State Meet in individual competition and turned in a fine performance. He took seventh place in the state meet.

did well. Their dual meet record was 3-5, with a fourth place finish in the Grand Rapids Invitational being one of the highlights. They also took fourth place in the Welch Invitational and sixth in the sectionals. One of the team's main strengths came from senior leadership, especially with only ten girls on the team, according to Coach Bill Terriquez.

Teresa Nelsen, Beth Bertleson, and Beth Hustrad were the captains this year. The MVP honors went to Beth Hustrad while Most Improved was Joy Waters.

Post-season competition centered on Beth Hustrad's fine showing at the Sectionals where she qualified for the state meet. Beth had an excellent first run at state, placing in 14th place, but then dropped out of competition when her binding broke on her second run.

Fielding a team with more depth and experience than ever before, Coach Linda Wallenberg commented that the team did extremely well with both the varsity and B-squad performances. They once again took the conference title and successfully defended their first place finish in the Willmar Tournament. There were nine girls who competed as all-around gymnasts in beam, uneven bars, floor exercise, and vaulting routines.

Leading the team to its first place finish in Regions were team captains Ann Rogers, Connie Sackert, and Shelly Wood. In post-season competition, the girls took sixth in state with their team high score of the season at 132.18 points. Highest scorers were Shelly Wood (9.3 in floor exercise), Traci Anonsen (9.0 in vaulting), Linda Doench (8.63 in floor exercise), Connie Sackert (8.3 in floor exercise), and Sue Williamson (7.96 in bars).

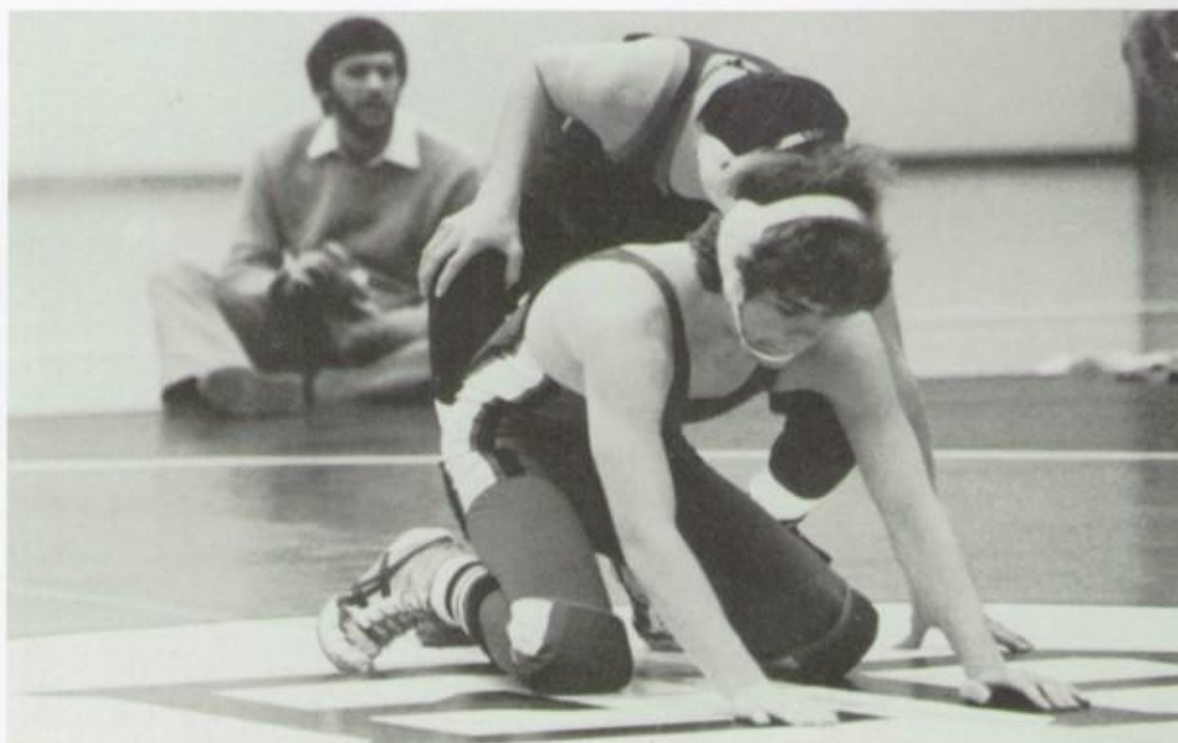

Even though plagued by injuries and illnesses which kept five seniors from competing, the varsity and junior varsity teams maintained their unity, according to Coach Steve Lindow. Walt Madden and Scott McNulty served as captains. Coach Lindow felt that the unusual number of injuries along with a lack of depth to field two full teams of wrestlers kept the season from being as successful as it might have been, but younger wrestlers gained experience by having to compete at harder levels.

Even though they lacked outdoor ice because of the warm winter much of the season, the team turned in one of the best records ever for Eden Prairie. Coach Rocco Lovering experimented this season with dividing the team into a B and C squad for many match-ups, and got good performances from the boys. The B-squad was particularly proud of its victory over Lindbergh after losing to them earlier, while the C-squad can look with pride to its "come from behind" victory over Hutchinson. Coach Lovering termed the play in that game the best 2 on 1 passing from any squad all season.

Who would get up at 4:30 a.m. thirty times during the winter just to practice a game? Members of the team did. Coach Dick Emahiser said his team showed good attitude and hustle throughout the season, with winning the Brainerd holiday tournament being the highlight of the season. Scott Zurn and Kris Pearson were captains, while Mark Hansen served as alternate.

Led by captain Shannon Dungan, the members of the Boys Basketball Cheerleaders

were busy this winter with activities designed to get school spirit going. Sporting new sweaters and getting their routines together, the girls got the crowds cheering at the basketball games. They also helped with the Christmas pepfest and Charity Week, as well as doing locker decorations to show the team members they were thinking of them.

GIRLS BASKETBALL CHEERLEADERS. Bottom row: Beth Varner, Lori Sather, Jonnie Roertger. Middle row: Jane Stanley, Kelly Spohn. Top row: Sue Sadler.

In their first year of existence, the girls were active in Charity Week and promoting their team. The were captained by Kelly Spohn. Not only did they cut and paste to create colorful locker decorations, but they came up with routines to show their support for the girls basketball team. They also helped the pepfests be full of cheers.

Girls Basketball Cheerleaders

"I'm glad it's only a few lockers!"

"Where did I go wrong?"

"Now what?"

WRESTLING CHEERLEADERS. Front row: Lisa Pratt, Wendy Emry. Second row: Laura Shold, TJ Safley. Top: Leslye Rucker.

The

Wrestling Cheerleaders

have Ms. Pudas as advisor and Laura Shold as captain. These cheerleaders cheer for both A and B squads of wrestling since there are no B-squad cheerleaders this year.

With Ms. Pudas as advisor and Pam Van Guilder as captain,

About Spring Sports Coverage . . .

The following pages cover the 1980 spring sports, but there are some problems. The final publisher's deadline is the beginning of March, so several teams, like golf and tennis, had not even started their season when the yearbook had to be finished. Others had just started to practice. All team pictures were taken before cuts and determination of varsity or J-V squads. Also, these students' names do not appear in the index.

STUDENT COUNCIL
PROFESSOR

ITIES

Once again, the job of organizing most of the school's activities and special events fell to

Student Council.

This year, Charity Week was new, with Christmas events and money-raising being combined. Members also worked hard to make other special events (such as Homecoming, St. Selgae's, Valentines's Day, and pepfests) fun for the students and entertaining. Beth Bertleson was president, Karen Lyngdal was vice-president, Janer Johnson was secretary, and Tom Hofius was treasurer.

The job of choosing students for various honors also went to Student Council this year, along with the dances and other school-wide events.

"I'm in a hurry, can't you see? I have to go to practice and I need some quick energy."

Once the leaves have "turned," the Oktoberfest can get underway.

Once again, the Oktoberfest was the highlight of the year for members. They also had fun and raised money through a car wash and selling candy. Oktoberfest took the most time, with its full Saturday of food, entertainment, and sales. The money they raised helped the club explore the culture of Germany and to add to the scholarship fund to help send students to Germany.

German Club

Pam Hagen and Julie Kakach were co-presidents while Stacia Herman was the secretary.

Mary Emblom works her flower stand at Oktoberfest.

The Oktoberfest provides for the very hungry.

Preparing special foods was the main activity of the Spanish Club.

The students made Spanish omelettes one time, then hot chocolate and donuts. Club members also planned to go to a Spanish restaurant for an authentic meal during the spring.

Reading the announcements, Tim McNeil and Chris Curtis provide a new service to the school.

With almost double the number of students competing this year, "speechies" polished and practiced material in several categories for months before the regular meets began. Two early bird contests gave members of the experience as well as showing of the strength of the team: they brought back three trophies, thanks to Sara Gardner and Kelly Spohn, while Tim McNeil and Jeff Tuttle were honored with superior certificates.

After competing from the season opener in February at Shakopee to the regions and state in April, the team joined drama students in an award dinner at the end of the year.

This year's newspaper staff was an ambitious one, publishing the two times instead of one each quarter. Although the staff was smaller than in the past, they got their articles in on time, impressing advisor Ms. Janet Wigfield. Aside from writing articles, each staffer was a page editor this year. The staff will remember both the fun of the MHSPA convention in the fall and the shock of an upside-down cover page in December!

Deciding what will fit on her page is one of Debbie Schultre's jobs on Eyrie staff.

Trying to get seniors to turn in yearbook pictures, Lisa Tomczik and Brian Hofius mount a poster campaign.

This very book you're looking at was brought to you by the 1980 Eagle staff. With a new sponsor and all new staff, this year's yearbook has a new look. The size is bigger than last year, there is more student art work, and the staff gathered more information than ever before. Instead of doing a spring supplement, the staff decided to include spring sports in the yearbook because they have been left out before. Even though the price was raised to $11, the students sold almost 100 more yearbooks than last year. They also sold ads to try to keep the cost down.

Some learned to take pictures, and everybody pitched in to help with designing pages, getting information and scores, and writing up copy.

At the beginning of the year, some yearbookers went to the state high school press convention at U of M to get some information and to have fun getting to know each other.

The club is set up to coordinate the foreign student exchange program and to provide activities for EP students interested in going abroad or learning about other cultures. This year, the club had the participation of Carola Antelo from South America as well as Maria Nystedt from Sweden. Line Contant, from Montreal, was the official exchange student sponsored by the

A.F.S. Club.

Club members greeted Line with a barbeque and enjoyed her cheerful talents all year long. Members also sold candy to help bring other exchange students to Eden Prairie for international weekends. Julie Hanson served as president this year and will be an AFS student in another country next year — an honor no one has had at EPHS for a long time!

Active AFS members get together at a party.

Cathy Gilmore and Dick Saxe hold the safety ropes as fellow club members work on their climbing skill.

It's not a sport for everyone, but a dedicated group of EP students love it and have come together as the Rock Climbers.

With the help of money from sales of Happenings coupon books, the group went on a climbing trip to Taylors Falls and planned more for the spring. Al Hagen helped Mrs. Clymer with the sponsoring of the club this year. One of the most difficult climbs to make is straight up the wall in the gymnastics room where club members have attached small rocks for hand and foot holds. Only a few members are skilled enough to make it, but the wall provides a challenge to practice on.

Russ Lewis reaches the ceiling in the difficult climb straight up the gymnastics room wall.

Maintaining careful control, Russ Lewis begins his practice climb.

How Char-Lynn® Hydraulic Motors Touch Your Life

Everybody is familiar with the friendly whine of electric motors in everyday life. The pleasant hum of the electric shaver or hair dryer.

But, what hidden force turns the steady, slow revolutions of a gas station sign on a cold, windy night? How about the spinning spreader, casting sand behind the highway truck on an icy road? What secret motor spins all those wet, sloppy brushes in a car wash? Chances are high that the hydraulic motors doing these often wet and messy jobs, have been manufactured by Eaton Corporation's Minneapolis Division in Eden Prairie, Minnesota.

Char-Lynn hydraulic motors convert oil pressure into rotary motion. Oil entering motor must turn a shaft before passing through, a principle similar to walking through a turnstile in a drug store.

How does the Char-Lynn motor touch your life? Consider the lowly catsup bottle on your cupboard shelf. A Char-Lynn hydraulic motor probably turned the giant pivoting sprinkler system that irrigated the tomatoes in California. A Char-Lynn hydraulic motor probably powered many parts of the picker that gently removed the fruit from its vine. A Char-Lynn hydraulic motor moved the conveyor that loaded and unloaded the tomatoes in the truck. In the cannery, a Char-Lynn hydraulic motor moved the tomatoes to and from the cookers. A Char-Lynn hydraulic motor even worked with the bottling machine, conveyed the cased bottles to the warehouse, etc., etc. At the Chanhassen Dinner Theater, the motor never speaks a line, but it revolves the stage so the show can go on.

Next time you put catsup on a hamburger or run your car through a car wash, give the Char-Lynn motor a kind thought. It does a lot of work in a lot of places to make life a little easier. And it doesn't get (nor require) a lot of attention.
